International Girls in ICT Day is celebrated on April 23

Dear girls, everyone who connects their future with information and communication technologies!

We congratulate you on International Girls in ICT Day, which is celebrated annually on the fourth Thursday of April. Held since 2011, the International Telecommunication Union's initiative has long gone beyond the calendar date.

This year, the event is celebrated on April 23 and is held under the motto: "Artificial Intelligence for Development: Girls Shaping the Digital Future."

Belarus is dynamically developing its telecommunications infrastructure, creating conditions for tech start-ups, and integrating artificial intelligence into public administration, education, healthcare, and industry. Human capital is at the core of this process, and girls and young women are also drivers of technological progress.

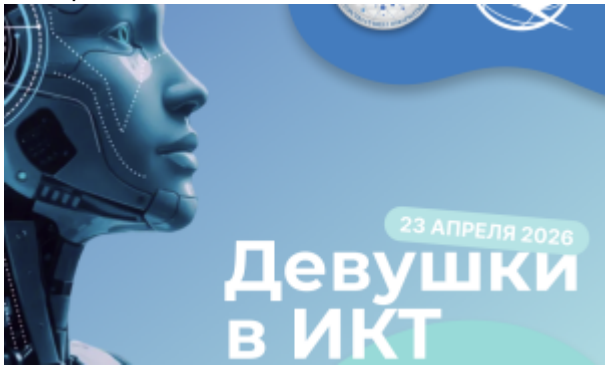

We see more and more Belarusian girls choosing IT professions, becoming project managers, founders of technology companies, and mentors for future generations.

Let your knowledge enable you to create innovative solutions in the fields of AI, cybersecurity, digital economy, and smart services.

We wish you confidence in your abilities, inspiration for bold projects, professional success, and exciting discoveries!
